Lucero: Sister City Prexy

Tom Lucero Jr. took over the reigns of the Upland Sister City organization at the group's annual dinner at the Magic Lamp Restaurant.

He succeeds Zella Stone, who has served as the president for two years. She was instrumental in helping establish the Sister City program.

Others serving with Lucero are Harvey Stone, vice president; Mrs. Rod Anderson, recording secretary; Mrs. Stone, corresponding secretary; and Earl Nelson, treasurer.

Elected to serve on the board for two years were Frank Ayala, Mrs. Douglass Black and Dick Glanders. Mayor George Gibson was the installing officer.

Appointed by the new president were Mrs. Althea Correll, parliamentarian; Harvey Stone, program chairman; and Frank Carpenter, membership chairman. Mrs. Stone received a standing ovation from the 75 persons present. She was commended for her long hours of devotion to the organization. Zella is also the city council representative to the committee and to the Town Affiliation Association, which is the formal name of Sister City.

Accepting the gavel, Lucero said, "I am grateful and honored in being elected president of the Upland Town Affiliation Association, and it is with a great sense of responsibility that I accept because we are involved with other nations, cultures and people as individuals of Upland and the United States."

"In our involvement we should accept our Sister Cities' way of life, continue with the programs we have started and implement them, further develop relations with Caborca and Mildura and be known as a true people-to-people program, regardless of race, creed or national origin."

Seated at the head table were Mayor and Mrs. Gibson, City Manager and Mrs. Elwin Alder, and the 1969 officers and their spouses, Mr. and Mrs. Lucero, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Correll.

Other guests included Tony Malone, chamber manager; Mr. and Mrs. Hal Ballin; Mrs. James Christensen; and Mrs. A. M. Hawkins Jr. and relatives of the Luceros, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sandoval, Mr. and Mrs. Baudelio Sandoval, Carolina Rangel and Luis Belmontez.

Reports were given by the outgoing officers, and letters were presented from students in Caborca, Sonora, Mexico, one of Upland's two sister cities. Mrs. Nelson read letters from women who wish to correspond with persons in Mildura, Australia, Upland's other sister city.

Preliminary school budget maps no major change; balance nil

A preliminary budget, based on current levels of funding from the state, only step increments or column changes for teachers and a minimal 3 per cent increase in assessed valuation and in average daily attendance was presented at this week's special meeting of the Upland School District.

As presented, the budget would end the 1970-71 fiscal year (June 1971) with a balance of $5,657. That ending balance is in contrast with an expected balance this June 30 -- the end of the current fiscal year -- of $279,298. Expenditures for the current budget are expected to total $3,829,508. The preliminary budget for the coming fiscal year tags expenditures at $3,967,441.

As Asst. Supt. Ernest Kirkland commented about the preliminary figures: "The budget is only a course which you can follow. It's like a road map. 'If you don't have any signs, you are lost.'"

The reference was to the tentative nature of the figures presented.

Among the assumptions made in preparing the preliminary budget were:

--No change in current legislation regarding state apportionments.

--No changes in special education classes.

--Only step increments and column changes in pay for certificated personnel.

--Only step increments and added years service in pay for classified (non-teaching) personnel.

--Addition of only five new teachers because of projected enrollment increase (3 per cent or 180 additional pupils; enrollment is now 6,020).

Other assumptions made in drafting the preliminary budget include 90 per cent funding of Title I Elementary and Secondary Education Act programs and one-half of the current amount (now $48,000 a year) under Public Law 874--money for federally impacted areas.

Kirkland said this decrease is being anticipated because of layoffs at General Dynamics in Pomona.

The budget presented this week at the request of the Citizens' Committee, shows current expenditures for teachers' salaries --not including administrators, principals and supervisors--at $2,226,991.

The amount proposed this week was $2,353,000.

Dale Exline, member of the Upland Educators Association, criticized the preliminary budget because it doesn't provide for salary increases other than called for in teachers' individual contracts.

In reply, board president Floyd G. Allen said it would be "unreasonable" for Kirkland "to project something (a raise for teachers) that hasn't been negotiated..."

"It would be a mistake to call this document 'hard and fast,' it's merely a working tool."

Cramer seeks Judgeship

James M. Cramer announced his candidacy for the position of San Bernardino County Municipal Court Judge, West Valley Division in Ontario.

Cramer has spent the past nine years in the San Bernardino County District Attorney's Office, the past five years as the Deputy in charge of the Ontario office, the largest law firm in West San Bernardino County. This office has been responsible for the prosecution and coordination of investigations of all the criminal cases arising in the greater West End area of San Bernardino County starting with Etiwanda to the East and Chino to the south. Cramer, his wife Elizabeth, two young children, David, 5, and Claire, 8, live in Upland.

He received a B.A. degree from the University of Redlands and his LL.B. degree from the University of California at Berkeley. He has been active in Rotary, a Director of the Upland Rotary club, Western San Bernardino Bar Association, presently serving as vice-president, San Bernardino County Bar Association, presently a director, trustee of his church, and presently serving on a citizen committee studying financing problems of Upland Elementary School District.

Cramer feels his long experience as a trial lawyer, working in criminal law, provides him with the necessary tools and expertise to handle the volume of work, essentially criminal in nature, which confronts a Municipal Court Judge each day. In the era of rising court congestion, this expert handling of criminal matters is necessary for the prompt and effective administration of justice.

Council candidates speak to chamber

The Upland Chamber of Commerce heard five City Council candidates speak at a breakfast meeting last week.

Three council seats are up for election, currently held by Mrs. Zella Stone, James L. Christensen and A. M. (Max) Hawkins Jr. Challenging them for re-election are Frank Ayala, Harold Ballin, Jerry Leggett, John E. McCarthy and Howard McGarry.

Hawkins, Ayala and Leggett were unable to attend the chamber's public forum.

Christensen told the audience that Upland currently needs "experience, not experimenters." He is seeking election to a third term on the council.

Mrs. Stone reviewed her council record since being elected in 1966, the only woman to ever hold the seat. She related her influence in many of the developments of the community, including the downtown mall area and the library and fire station buildings.

Ballin lashed out at the council and city manager Elwin Alder, charging the current administration as being "unconcerned. There must be a change of attitude in City Hall, and we must have a broader tax base through more industry and commercial development," he said.

According to McCarthy, the citizens of the city have undergone a 16 cent tax rate increase in the past eight years and he termed the tax override for the city parks of 1961 as inadequate.

He said the income from the override has been $325,839, while expenses during the period have amounted to $418,291.

Girl Scouts Launch Cancer Drive

Distribution of American Cancer Society posters helping the West End Branch publicize April as Cancer Crusade Month has been undertaken by members of Upland Cadet Troop 1133.

They have been instructed by the Society's West End Public Information chairman, Mrs. Clifford Nellis, where to place the posters to remind Upland residents to "Fight cancer with a checkup and a check."

"The 1970 April crusade will be both educational and fund raising," Mrs. Nellis said. "We're going to be energetic about reaching three major objectives; first, to encourage everyone to get regular health checkups, including cancer tests; second, to show how some forms of cancer can be prevented; third, to raise money for life-saving programs of research, education and service to cancer patients."

Volunteers wishing to assist in the Cancer Crusade are urged to see Mrs. Clark at the West End Area office, 417 W. "E" St. in Ontario, or telephone 983-2784.

Construction started for bank branch

Construction of the new $450,000 permanent building for Bank of America's North Upland branch began this week, manager Mrs. Katherine Hancock announced.

Located at the northwest corner of Foothill Boulevard and Mountain Avenue, the new facility will contain 8,500 square feet in ground floor and mezzanine sections, 16 teller windows and a canopied drive-in window area. The modernistic building, designed by architects Smith and Williams of South Pasadena, will consist of two massive rectangular sections in beige-colored brick, joined in a dual level, stair-step design.

The upper level will house the mezzanine area and provide the canopy for the two drive-in windows.

During construction, the branch will continue operations from its temporary offices at 965 West Foothill, one half mile east of the new branch site. The North Upland branch opened in 1967.

construction March 30. The 8,500 square foot structure will replace temporary branch facility one-half mile away.

Doing their job

Least people think that the Parks and Recreation Committee which is composed of citizens has not or is not doing their job, we hasten to say they are.

The criticism leveled at the Parks and Recreation program in Upland has nothing to do with the committee.

The criticism was leveled at city hall, who makes the P & R budget at the direction of the council. The budget is made up without consulting the committee and there is indifference when something is presented by the group. This comes from having a councilman at the head of the committee.

These volunteers have much concern for the parks and recreation situation in Upland and the members deserve a vote of thanks for serving under adverse conditions.

They are capable people and reflect a diverse group in the city. They should now have an opportunity to handle their own committee without interference.

Let us hope the new Mayor will appoint one of them chairman and not appoint a councilman as head again.

A Little Bit

OF THIS AND THAT

By Bob Evans

The day of the first caveman election approached, and the political heat rose even more sharply.

Leading contenders were Joseph B. Primitive, who briefly held the title of head problem-solver, and a caveman named Mworg.

Since cigars hadn't been invented yet, and rooms were merely craggy bends inside the caves, Primitive and Mworg were unable to meet with their supporters in smoke-filled rooms.

But a suitable meeting place eventually was found.

The cave dwellers had discovered that by digging a pit in one large, unoccupied cave, they could assign all the cooking for the cave community to this one location.

This they did, thus ending the inconvenience of each family's having to light its own separate fire.

The cavemen called this central cooking place a kitchen. It quickly became a popular place to hold all kinds of meetings.

The get-togethers were usually held after dinner and late enough in the evening to allow the kitchen to cool.

The Primitive forces met there, and so did Mworg's, but never both the same evening.

Because of the kitchen's increasing popularity, the cave community designed a trustworthy chap named True-Man to take care of the kitchen and assign meeting dates.

Well, the election was two days away, and a representative of Primitive and a man from Mworg both asked True-Man for use of the cave the night before the caveman election.

Primitive's representative, Zlork, was the first to reach True-Man, and he got first choice for the time of Primitive's meeting. Zlork wisely chose a late hour so the kitchen could cool.

Mworg's man, Harry, got second choice, and the Mworg contingent was forced to gather in the cooking cave shortly after the dinner hour.

So the Mworg meeting began, and it was hot! Mworg noticed that Harry's face was flushed, so the caveman candidate left the meeting briefly to talk to True-Man. Mworg returned to the meeting, went up to his aide and advised:

"Harry, True-Man says if you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen."

Current Comments

Governor Ronald Reagan of California in a message to the members of the legislature of California stated: "It is increasingly apparent to concerned citizens everywhere that no government - federal, state county or city - can continue an ever-spiraling program of greater spending accompanied by heavier taxation. On the national level, the President has made it clear that even the immense resources of our federal government can be exhausted by this irresponsible game of leapfrog. Cities and counties also are finding their tax sources strained to the limit and new avenues of taxation nonexistent. . ."

SISTER CITY INSTALLATION

The Sister City installation dinner was a very nice affair. The decorations were done in a Spanish motif with colorful flowers adding a touch of spring. Zella Stone, graciously presided over the meeting. She deserves a real doff of the sombrero for her unending hours of work in fostering the Sister City program, as do others who have shown interest in keeping the committee going.

If you would like to join this group, the dues are, $2 for regular membership, $5 for sustaining membership and $10 for sponsoring membership. It is $10 for the organizational membership. All dues are for one year. Meetings are held the third Tuesday every month at city hall council chambers, at 7:30 p.m. It is well worth your time to belong and enjoy this "people to people" program.

A doff of the hat to the hard working service club bulleting editors: To Franklin Green, Upland Host Lions, he edits the "The Tail-Twister". To Frank Benner, he edits the bulletin of "The Kiwanis Club". To Lee Travers, he edits the Rotary bulletin, "The Grease Cup". To Ray Stump, he edits the "The Lions Tale, put out by Upland Breakfast Lions Club and to Keith Larrick, this I'll have to guess at as the fellows aren't mailing me the bulletin. Larrick puts out "The Mountaineer", for the Upland Foothill Kiwanis Club and finally to who ever puts out the "Optimist Briefer" either he is a bashful editor or it's done by the officers who don't wish to reveal their deed. Anyway, they all do a good job and it's fun to read about the club activities.

NARCOTIC EDUCATION PROGRAM

The Police Department's Narcotic Education Program continues to be of interest to various groups throughout the community. In addition, the program was presented several times this week to various classes in the local Jr. High Schools. The Police Department is attempting to educate all age groups within the community about the dangers of drug abuse.

State judicial system study underway by LWV

The League of Women Voters of West San Bernardino County is starting a new study of the California judicial system. As an introduction, a "Go-See" was held recently, with members spending the day observing a court session of the West End Division of the San Bernardino County Superior Court. Local leagues throughout the state will be carrying out a two-year study of California courts.

At a recent meeting of the League board at the Chino home of Mrs. Ned Carter, president, plans were discussed for a two-day voter registration drive at Chaffey College, Alta Loma, the second week in April, aimed at first-time voters. Deputy registrars who will be serving April 6 and 7 at the college campus are the Mmes. Eleanor Allen, Robert Hemphry, Clive Warner, and A. G. Wedin, all league members from Upland.

Mrs. John Pierce of Upland recently appeared before Charles Koehler's two classes in American civlization at Chaffey College. She discussed the history, purpose and activities of the League of Women Voters. This was part of the class survey of national organizations. Mrs. Pierce gave a similar presentation at a recent luncheon meeting of the New Uplanders Club.

The League is a non-partisan organization whose aim is informed and active citizen participation in government. It acts on issues only, and never sponsors candidates. Membership is open to all women of voting age. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Carter at 628-2421.

The local League will hold its annual meeting at the Upland Public Library at 7:30 p.m. on April 9. New officers will be elected, and a local study item chosen.

Orange Show opens today

With attendance expected to hit the 375,000 mark for the 11 days, the 55th National Orange Show swings wide its gates at 10 a.m. today, April 2, in its annual salute to the state's golden citrus harvest.

From the opening night California Citrus Queen Pageant to the final rodeo events on the closing weekend April 11 and 12, the 1970 citrus exposition spells fun and frolic for all members of the family. There's an action-packed entertainment package designed to appeal to kids, oldersters and in between.

One of the most star-studded programs of free stage presentations in Orange Show history has been signed. Popular television personality Bill Welsh and singer and actress Giselle MacKenzie will be joint emcees at the queen contest.

Other stars include Gary Lewis and the Playboys, April 3; actor Leonard Nimoy and the comedy team of Belland & Somerville, April 4; Jack Benny, April 5; Regis Philbin, April 6; Bob Ralston, April 7; Pat Buttram, April 8; Jim Backus, April 9; Mickey Rooney, April 10; Barbara McNair, April 11; and Bob Hope, April 12.

Heavy Weights class planned

Valley residents will have a chance to trip through life a bit more lightly with the opening of a new Weight Watchers class at Upland on Wednesday, April 15.

Area Supervisor Jackie Whitten said that the growing national concern with fitness was a factor in opening the new class, which will be held at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday in the Miramonte Room of the Uplander Motor Hotel at Euclid and Foothill in Upland.

Mrs. Jean Halper of Alta Loma, a 38-pound loser, was enthusiastic about the Upland class, explaining that many men and women had been looking forward to attending a meeting nearer their homes. Currently, many attend the Montclair May Company class on Tuesday evenings. The new class will add convenience for persons from Cucamonga to Chino and Etiwanda to Pomona.

The April 15 meeting will be a free introductory session, and persons wishing to join Weight Watchers may do so at the end of the meeting. There is a charge of $5 for the first week, and $2 per week, without contracts. More information about the classes and program may be obtained by calling 984-3111.

Upland designer will show fruit racks,

Mrs. Norma P. Donyes of Upland, designer of fruit racks for the National Orange Show, will give 21 demonstrations this year during the 11-day citrus exposition in San Bernardino April 2 through 12.

The colorful fruit racks, an attraction for many years in the Feature Exhibits Buildings, are constructed of hundreds of choice grapefruit, lemons and oranges, with the aid of colored paper.

Designs this year will feature Canada, Japan, Spain and New Zealand, in keeping with the Show's theme for 1970, "Citrus International."

Mrs. Donyes' demonstrations, called "Painting in Paper," will be given from noon to 2 p.m., 3 to 5 p.m., and 7 to 9 p.m., on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 3, 4 and 5; Tuesday, April 7; and the final weekend, April 10, 11 and 12.

The New Zealand design, in honor of the Orange Show's Queen Exchange program with the Bay of Plenty Orange Festival at Tauranga, New Zealand, will be at the end of the rack nearest to the center of the Feature Exhibit structure.

Assistance League brings Spring to West End

By JANNLEE BROOKS

"L'Esprit du Printemps," the chosen theme for the Assistance League of Upland's recent champagne brunch-fashion show, did indeed radiate an aura of "Spring Fever." Though the weather, of the day brought early April showers, table decorations and the mingled perfumes of the 450 guests added to the sights and smells of Spring.

Under the commentary of Glo Davis and with the musical background of the Aimee Trio, models pranced, danced and showed-off the very latest in the collection of fashion designer Mr. Blackwell.

Surprisingly enough, cottons play a big role in Mr. Blackwell's spring and summer line. Big, bold and brassy prints on white and neutral backgrounds added intricacy to the simplicity of cotton fabric.

Color for the new line was as bold and brassy as the prints with every shade of sherbet -- from raspberry to lime -- utilized.

Today's WOMEN

Black prints on white as well as brown on white were also quite big in the Blackwell line. Doing a complete turn-about from the bold sherbets were the quiet, muted pastels. Orchids and lavender, shrimps and pinks gave radiance to the soft clingy jerseys and silks.

Mr. Blackwell relied rather heavily on the use of scarves. Whether the scarf was a little piece of fluff for accent, or foot upon foot of flowing material, they were quite popular in the Blackwell line.

The designed is well-noted for his use of beading on dresses. Models showed a line of dresses, all designed with V necklines, fitted waists and empire bodices, which were highlighted by intricate beading at the neckline or hem. Though the dresses appeared quite similar, the use of pearl, crystal and various beading set off each one individually. Last year's pant hostess gowns were replaced by long, flowing skirted hostess gowns. The Blackwell line contained very few pants.

Skirt lengths varied, with no maxis and no minis, but with the advocacy of "very lady-like lengths."

Male fashions were modeled by actor Mike Steele. The fashions, for the most part, were impractical for the average husband, but utilized the latest in male attire. Mr. Steele, an audience-favorite, was well received with his boldly colored shirts, wildly striped pants, and highly colorful jackets.

Mr. Blackwell, in keeping with his advocacy that women's clothes should be as feminine as the women wearing them, undoubtedly doesn't consider us "over-weight" women to be very feminine. Too many of his fashions featured form-fitting silhouettes. Oh well, anyone for a metrecal cookie?

BLACKWELL PRESENTS -- As a fashion show finale, models paraded down the runway wearing the "utmost" in evening fashions, all styled by Mr. Blackwell. Blackwell, known for his list of the Ten Worst Dressed Women, insists on femininity in fashion.

A MALE MODEL! -- Women attending the Assistance League of Upland's fashion show were surprised, but pleased with male model Mike Steele. Steele, although a model, is better known for his acting ability. Standing with him is Mrs. Joyce Merrell who was chairman for the fashion show.

Alarms sponsor babysitting class

Babysitting is a big job and a responsible one. Parents should have at their disposal babysitters who are fully trained and equipped to handle any and all emergencies. The purpose of this course is to remove the risks of babysitting-for the sitter as well as her charges.

A free babysitting class will start Wednesday, April 8, sponsored by the ALarms, wives of the Alta Loma Firemen.

Four sessions will be held at 7 p.m., at the Alta Loma Firehall, Amethyst and Lomita, Alta Loma.

Mrs. John Buus, a registered nurse will be the instructor. She will cover the care of children, the sitters medical responsibilities to the parents and children, normal and problem behavior, what to do in emergency situations and legal responsibilities of babysitters.

Bill Bryan of the Alta Loma Fire Department will tell about the procedure to follow in case of fire. A member of the Sheriff Department will speak on what to do in case of a prowler.

Mrs. Jerry Wulf, a nursery school teacher will talk on "Ways to Entertain a Child."

The course is to conclude with a review on April 29. Upon completing the course, a graduation certificate will be awarded to each pupil.

The course is open to anyone wishing to participate. Those interested are asked to contact Mrs. Jeffrey Fort at 987-4452 to register for the course.

Drug pushers young--not old says judge

By DANA DOWNIE

"Law enforcement was wrong in the past," admitted narcotics officer Captain Peter Smith at a recent dinner meeting of the Ontario-Upland Republican Women's club.

"We tried to scare the kids - that to use marijuana today would mean heroin tomorrow. He added that this had proven ineffective, as seen by the steady increase in narcotic arrests in Upland.

In the years of 1960-1966 there was generally one arrest per year. In 1967 there were 22 arrests and 127 arrests in 1968.

He commented that teens are living in a "drug-oriented society", where drugs can be obtained from a medicine cabinet. To combat this increasing trend, the department is placing greater emphasis on the lower grades and trying to educate the adults.

Other speakers on the panel included Ontario Mayor Howard Snider, Municipal Court Judge William E. Walk, Jr. (who since has announced he will retire from the bench), and Cliff Morrison of Teen Challenge.

Mayor Snider's main concern was how to get the community aroused over the drug problem and what should city government do. He stated that youngsters of today were experiencing things faster and that there "is a greater need for parental guidance now than ever before."

Inadequacy of system

Judge Walk commented on the inadequacy of the present system. "Putting them in jail isn't the answer."

He estimated that approximately 25% of today's juniors and seniors in high school combined with the college population, have tried drugs. Of that number, approximately 75% continue to use them.

Walk said that the image of the "dirty old-man" that hung around the playground is no longer the image of the "pusher". The modern pusher, according to composite statistics is likely to be 16 years old, with a mother in the PTA and parents who generally think they are communicating with their child. Generally the 16-year-old has been on drugs for six months and is now "turning his friends on".

Walk traced the line of profit of drugs, showing the immense profit that is derived from them. He stated that until the profit is taken out of drugs, the problems will remain.

World cooperation

"There is going to have to be world cooperation among the nations. Perhaps the world court would rule on these matters instead of the inter-country disputes among corporations. People are our problems today."

He also commented on the British solution of making drugs available for the addicts. One of the drugs available is Methadone which is similar to heroin, but it is much less expensive. Thus the habit becomes cheaper.

However, commented Judge Walk, "There is the problem that sooner or later heroin addicts will become vegetables--and vegetables cost money. Who is going to pay for them?"

He speculated that a possible solution for the United States might be a third category (to be added to guilty or not guilty). This could be a sort of half-way might be a third category of pleading (to be added to guilty or not guilty).

This would let the person participate in a sort of group therapy, but emphasized that the group would have professional guidance.

Cliff Morrison of Teen Challenge stressed the idea that kids turn to drugs because they are lacking something in their lives. Generally, the parents were more interested in making money than taking their time to communicate with their child. The parents would substitute money for the time they could not, or would not spend with their child. Thus, the child would take dope to get back at them. Generally, even with drugs, the persons were "in search of something real."

According to Morrison, the answer is in something greater than the person -- Jesus Christ. He was followed by Cindy Black and Bruce Ables, of Teen Challenge who attested to the fact that they were able to give up drugs through their acceptance of Jesus Christ.

PRINCIPAL CITED FOR CONTINUING SERVICE AWARD

Each year the Upland High Parent-Teachers' Association honors one individual by presenting him the Honorary Life Member Award. Mr. Thomas Glasheen, Principal of UHS, received this coveted title a few years ago. But because of his devoted service to UHS students and the P.T.A., he was presented a second life membership award, the Continuing Service Award.

Although Mr. Glasheen is leaving us next year, he will always be remembered as an adult who cares about the youth of today.

SPEED KILLS

Ask a high school kid. Boy or girl. Either one will give you the word that speed (amphetamines or pep pills) is lethal stuff. And so many kids are so scared they won't touch it. But not enough are scared enough.

They get into it too easily. And they ignore the inevitable. Does speed kill outright? Sometimes. Prolonged massive doses have caused brain hemorrhages and death. Although it's unusual, it can happen.

But the biggest problem is indirect. When a kid pops a couple of caps into his mouth, he experiences a right high. When he comes down, he's so low he's tempted to start another run. And that's the start of real trouble. Speed isn't addictive, but the body builds a tolerance. So he has to take more to get the same jolt. And more. And more. He often ends up shooting massive doses into his veins. He has an abnormal feeling of power. Superiority. He can easily become violent and aggressive. If he gets in a car, look out.

In his confused state, he ignores his body's normal need for food, drink, and sleep. So he's easy prey for pneumonia. He gets careless. And can wind up with hepatitis from a dirty needle.

But even if his body survives, his mind can be badly bent out of shape. It's not unusual for him to become paranoid and commit a violent crime. Perhaps kill.

Speed spreads death many ways.

If you know someone who's thinking of experimenting with this stuff, we urge you to have a talk with him. If he's been on it a while, get him to a doctor.

You could save his life.

SUCCESS

To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you lived. This is to have succeeded.

BANK OF AMERICA AWARDS

Four UHS seniors have been named semi-finalists in the 23rd annual Bank of America Achievement Awards Program. They will now advance to second-round competition next month to be held here in Southern California. Finalists will then compete for prizes ranging from $250 to $1,000.

The students and their categories of achievement are: Sylvia Lopez, vocational arts; Jan Alair, liberal arts; Margaret Breeding, fine arts; and Randy Kleinman, science and mathematics.

Two students from each department at Upland High were nominated for the award.

WCTU holds March meeting

Subscriptions to the Young Crusader for the Cabrillo, Citrus and Sycamore Elementary Schools in Upland were renewed when the Upland Woman's Christian Temperance Union met recently in the home of Mrs. Iva Marr for their March meeting.

A gift of $5.10 from the Mabel Merchant family was set aside to apply on a Loyal Temperance Legion Campship.

Mrs. Flora Moore, Social Service Director, and Mrs. Edith France, Loyal Temperance Secretary, reported on the Ontario Frances Willard luncheon which they attended. Again the local presented a film to the Police Department.

Mrs. Marr, President, led the discussion on narcotics basing her remarks on articles from the Union Signal.

Real estate specialist emerging

By EUGENE BELLO

President, Ontario-Upland-Chino Board of Realtors

There is a new specialty emerging in real estate that is finding wide usefulness in urban life—the real estate counselor.

He does what Realtors and other real estate brokers do as part of their job for a client, gives advice and guidance, but he does it as a specialty, on a fee basis.

Often there is no specific property involved, and even when there is, the sale or buying of it, does not involve a commission on his part.

While there is some talk that this may be the real estate profession of the future, its application at present doesn't seem that broad. A commission for finding a buyer still is the most practical incentive devised for transferring title to real estate.

The real estate counselor is most useful to the investor in real estate, where his service is very practical indeed. For example, in a case I read about, a counselor who was called in to help a new widow unravel her husband's property holdings earned his fee many times over.

He advised that some be sold, some be kept, some be demolished, all from the objective viewpoint of a Realtor whose everyday occupation was, in part, evaluating property for its best use, and investment yield.

The critical property was a white elephant of a hotel, with communal bathrooms off the halls and other facilities equally outmoded.

A survey confirmed that remodeling would be a waste of money and effort in that location, so the Realtor conceived the idea of using the site as a major shopping center of the new mall type. He found a developer who agreed enough to buy it at a considerably higher price than the hotel could have justified, even if remodeled.

It is possible, of course, that had the Realtor been given a listing on the hotel, that he might have come to the same conclusion and found the same buyer. But would the client, the widow, have taken him into her confidence to the extent that she did, as a counselor? And would he have been as objective?

As the patterns of urban growth, zoning, planning, financing, tax structure, and social considerations become more complex, investors may find that they welcome the guidance of a Realtor as a counselor.

He will perform that service for a mutually agreed upon fee, much as will an attorney or any other professional counselor.

The role has become recognized enough that the National Association of Real Estate Boards created the American Society of Real Estate Counselors, offering a means of developing that specialty.

W.E. symphony holds auction Friday

Interim activities continue

If you have always had your heart set on a whiffletree or have rendition of the "Star Spangled Banner" circled April 3 on your calendar, the West End Symphony Association opens the doors to the thwarted dreams of families, art lovers, music buffs, fishermen, sportsmen and fashion followers at its annual auction. This will be held Friday at the Ontario Elks Club, 1150 W. 4th St., Ontario, Browning begins at 6:30 and auctioning starts at 8 p.m. with Col. Tom Caldwell as the auctioneer.

POMONA -- April will be another month of "something for everyone" at the Los Angeles County Fair grounds. Regularly scheduled events include the Pomona Valley Rod and Gun Club's trap and skeet shooting every Sunday and the Citrus Belt Model Railroad Club meeting every Tuesday. The huge Swap-O-Rama swap meet every Saturday and Sunday is now operating on a reduced admission basis of 10 cents per person with ample free parking. Sunday, April 5, will be a busy day with the San Dimas Pleasure Riders horse show, the YMCA Indian Guides Pinewood Derby and the California Helmet Club's pigeon show scheduled. Tri-County CB's hold their monthly meeting on April 10. On Saturday and Sunday, April 11-12, Los Perreros Dog Club has a dog show set for the race track infield, and on that Sunday the Kavanaugh Sales Service is holding a horse auction, while the Half Arabian Southern California Association has a horse show in Carnation Ring. Attendance-wise, the annual San Gabriel Valley 4-H Fair on April 17-19, will be the largest event with some 10,000 visitors expected to see what the youngsters of today can and do accomplish. Wives of Professional Engineers are sponsoring a horse show on Sunday, April 19, for the benefit of retarded children and on the same day the Southern California Komorner Tumbler Club plans a pigeon show. West Covina Girl Scouts will camp out on Picnic Hill April 24-26 and the Campfire Girls plan a sports day Apr. 25. School bus drivers compete in their annual bus rodeo Apr. 25-26.

Top Quarter horses go on the auction block Sunday, Apr. 26, in the annual Mid-Winter Quarter Horse sale and on the same day pigeons fly in for a show sponsored by the Southern California Roller Club.

ON THE JOB — Al Canestro, left, past umpire-in-chief of Upland National Little League, will conduct a series of three training courses for umpires starting tonight, April 2, at 7 o'clock in the Upland City Council chambers. All interested persons are invited to attend the classes, with films to be shown to illustrate the finer points of baseball umpiring. The classes are free. The second and final courses will be held next Thursday and on April 16.

Damien spikesters still tops in Santa Fe loop

The power of Damien High School is not only in its football team, but also the track squad. The Spartan Spikesters have yet to be beaten in Santa Fe League competition. Their latest victories have been breezers, rolling past St. John Bosco 79-38, and then skipping by San Gabriel Mission by an 88-29 count. The Spartans have yet to be beaten in the 120-high or 180-low hurdles with Dennis Lindsey placing first every time. Lindsey runs the 120-yard high hurdles in times of 15 seconds and the 180-yard low hurdles in 20 seconds. In the easy roll over Mission, the Spartans won 11 out of 14 events, losing only the high jump, the pole vault and the 220.

Lindsey could have made it a complete runaway in the 180 low hurdles, according to head coach Bob Ware, but he tripped over the last hurdle and still came in with a 20.0-second time. In the romp over Bosco, Damien's Dave Torrez was another double winner in the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash. Torrez finished the 100 yards in the time of 10.4 seconds and then captured the 220 with a time of 23.8 seconds.

The Spartan's record in Santa Fe competition stands at a perfect 4-0. They will test that record against strong opposition in the Bishop Amat Relays at Mt. San Antonio College this Saturday. The meet will begin at 11:30 a.m.

Attractions

San Bernardino's National Orange Show, the county's "Calico Days" celebration, the High Desert and Mountain wild-flower extravaganza, the Colorado River resort area and the county's brilliant new travel poster all are featured in a full-page advertisement in the April edition of Sunset magazine.

Central LL meet

The Montclair Central Little League will hold its monthly meeting tonight, April 2, at 7:30 at the Montclair Convalescent Home. All parents are invited to attend.

Highlanders face Bonita with identical 1-1 record

Upland High School made a strong bid for the championship of the 35th annual Elks Tournament, before bowing to stronger competition.

The Highlanders beat highly-rated Covina High in a lopsided affair with the Highlanders winding up on top, 13-3. They turned right around and squeaked past Charter Oak 3-2, with all of their scoring coming on a three-run blast by Eric Frazier.

Charter Oak's scoring came in the first and third innings, and they left 13 men stranded. But the Highlander squad held on for the win.

In the Covina game, Upland's Louie Engle pitched five innings of hitless ball, before bowing out in the seventh. Gary Waldron took over hill chores and promptly finished off the Colts.

But the narrow escape proved costly to the Highlanders as they lost the talent of Dennis Stout, who suffered a broken arm. Stout may be out for the entire season.

Glenn Jackson had a seven-game hitting streak going until the Charter Oak contest, but had it snapped when he faced the Colts' Steve Tarbell and Jeff Baker. Baker came on in the fifth inning when Tarbell was replaced for a pinch hitter.

Ron Huber proved to be the big Highlander bat, as he hit safely in all three of the Highlanders' games, including a triple against Covina. The Highlanders scored in every inning except the first against the Colts and it was Huber who started things off.

Upland will return to action in San Antonio League play against Bonita. Both teams have 1-1 records thus far.

Tourney consolation title to Panthers

Chaffey College has had trouble holding on to the ball and consequently has been faltering in Easter vacation play, but Coach Howard Lowder's understudies held on in the Casey Stengel Tournament to capture the consolation title.

The Panthers defeated their old nemesis, Rio Hondo, in the finals of the Tourney to capture the crown. Previously, the Panthers had dropped three contests this year to the Roadrunners.

Frank DiCristo, who has been out for some time nursing an injury, came back in strong fashion and needed only 106 pitches to subdue Rio Hondo. DiCristo tamed the Roadrunners by allowing them only three balls to the outfield, all three going for hits.

DiCristo was boasting of a 31-4 record between high school and American Legion, but had to sit out most of the start of the season. He is now fully recuperated and is working on a 3-0 record thus far.

Also showing great improvement for the Panther Nine is catcher Ernie Viveros. Coach Lowder commented after the game, "Viveros is getting stronger as the season progresses, and is gaining confidence as well as experience."

To reach the finals, Chaffey had to dispose of powerhouse Los Angeles City College, which they did behind the strong pitching of John Gaylord. Gaylord, now 5-3 for the season, allowed six singles and struck out nine opposing men.

All-Conference selection Darrell Cederlind led the Panther attack. Jeff Wingert and Greg Garver also provided safeties for the Panthers.

Coach tells fund-raising campaign

Ed Cutshall, coach for the Upland AAU Water Polo Club, announced this week that the club is starting a fund-raising drive.

The club is a combination of boys from the age of 12 to 21 who live in Upland and neighboring cities interested in water polo competition. "We have already begun our second summer of organized AAU water polo and feel that with the experience we will gain, we will be one of the top high school teams in the nation," Cutshall said.

In an appeal for public contributions, he said, "As you know, any program such as ours costs money, and we are asking for your financial aid so that we will be able to continue our work."

More information may be obtained by writing to him at 1394-B Springfield, Upland.

He listed the following summer schedule:

April 11-12	18 and Under, Rio Hondo
April 25-26	Mt. SAC Jr., Open

Tourney consolation spot

MHS Cavaliers face Chino next in SAL

Montclair went into the 35th Elks Tournament with a sour note on the San Antonio League record, but the Cavaliers came through for Coach Lanny Moore by winning the consolation title with an easy 9-4 win over Artesia.

After losing to West Covina in the opener, 5-2, Montclair went on to defeat cross-town rival Alta Loma by the same margin. The Cavaliers then defeated Covina, 3-0, to knock the Colts out of the race.

The pitching of Scott Cassells and Jim Ventry proved to be too rough for their opponents. Ventry got the win over Artesia, while Cassells blanked Covina.

Montclair also avenged an earlier SAL loss to Garey by a 5-3 count. But the seven errors on the part of the Vikings didn't hurt Montclair in the least.

Minor League

Registration and try-outs for the Upland National Minor League will be conducted Saturday, April 4, at Warders Field, 8th Street and Campus, Upland.

Registration will start at 10 a.m., with try-outs to follow. Further information may be obtained from George McMichael at 985-6264 or Bill Huff, 982-2881.

In the Covina contest, Cassells allowed only three hits to the Colts and relied on the bat of Hank Merenda to pull off the win. Merenda started off all three rallies with singles. In the first inning he reached first on a solid single to left, stole second and scored on an error.

The Cavaliers banged across two runs in the second inning and then exploded for seven more in the third to put the game out of reach early.

Merenda also led the Cavaliers with a two-run blast in the third inning against Artesia. Merenda was Montclair's most valuable batsman in the tourney.

Montclair will continue in San Antonio League action tomorrow when they host Chino at 3:15.

Braves drop Elks Tourney

Alta Loma was eliminated early in the Elks Tournament when the team lost the opening game to Anaheim Western, 6-0, and then fell to the consolation champs Montclair, 5-2.

But Artie Keough's players will not enjoy the vacation, as they return to action against Wilson High in Hacienda League play.

Fellowships encourage innovation

CLAREMONT - Claremont Graduate School is offering 15 fellowships to develop innovative teachers for children in poverty areas.

The school is seeking applications all over the country. The two-year fellowships include a $200-a-month stipend plus allowance for dependents. The fellowship leads to a master's degree in education and a standard elementary or secondary California teaching credential.

After the first year of study with field work in black and Mexican-American communities, the fellows will set up summer "mini-schools" such as classes in empty stores.

The fellows will plan the schools and run them with paid and volunteer help from community residents.

Applications and more information may be obtained from Dr. Elner, in the Office of Teacher Education, Room 18, Harper Hall, Claremont University Center, Claremont, Calif. April 15 is the application deadline.

Begin Spring With Your New Pat Walker Figure

THESE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA WOMEN ARE READY FOR EXCITING SPRING FASHIONS WITH THEIR NEW FIGURES!

Here you see Long Beach's Mrs. James O'Brien wearing pants when she had 48-inch hips. She was ashamed of her figure and her husband hounded her for months to do something about her figure. In the next photo you will see her in a size 12 sheath after she reduced with the Pat Walker program.

Here you see Long Beach's Mrs. James O'Brien with Pat Walker, the International Reducing Authority. Mrs. O'Brien is wearing a perfect size 12 empire sheath. Left, you will see Mrs. O'Brien as she looked when she was a size 18 with 48-inch hips.

Pasadena's Mrs. Flora B. Landers was a size 16 when she started reducing with the Pat Walker Program. She wrote, "I was much too heavy for my build and felt so matronly and fat that I just did not enjoy shopping for new clothes." With the Pat Walker Program Mrs. Landers reduced to a perfect size 10 and recently remarried and spent her honeymoon in Hawaii.

Here you see Pasadena's Mrs. Flora B. Landers wearing the size 10 swimsuit she won from Pat Walker. Mrs. Landers didn't think she could fit into a size 10 swimsuit but Pat Walker was confident she could. A bet... if Mrs. Landers could fit into the size 10 swimsuit Pat Walker would give it to her. As a result, Pat Walker won the bet and lost a swimsuit.

Ask Pat Walker

Women Confused About Reducing Costs, Diets, Results

From Mrs. J.B., Los Angeles:

Dear Miss Walker: I was having coffee with some of my friends after a meeting recently and we were discussing weight problems and reducing. Several of us were overweight and found that one thing more than any other, bothered each of us. It was simply embarrassing to think of going into a salon full of women and taking reducing treatments. Then too, there seems to be so much confusing advertising in newspapers and magazines today, that it is hard to decide which one to believe, if we did get up enough nerve to go. We decided to write you and I was elected. What does one do to overcome the embarrassment? And how does one evaluate a reducing salon, when there are so many?

Dear Mrs. J.B. You and your girl friends have made a very intelligent approach by first realizing that your figure is important enough to warrant careful investigation of any individual or group who could have any effect on it. There are so many firms in the reducing field with inadequate background, knowledge and training. Many who open a "reducing parlor" are not prepared either technically or mechanically to perform a real service. We have been in the reducing business for nearly twenty years and have reduced more than 5 million women in the United States, Australia, Hawaii and other Pacific Islands. We are the oldest, most reputable company, having successfully reduced the greatest number of women. To answer your question directly, you should not trust your reducing problems to anyone who cannot offer proof of the same background and experience.

Regarding the portion of your question about being embarrassed — you will be pleased to learn that all treatments at our salons are given in complete privacy — and you don't remove a stitch of clothing. We have lovely public reception rooms in our sal-

Letters come to me from all over the world, asking about reducing problems. Women are very concerned about so many aspects of their figure problems and very often apprehensive about reducing programs. I am delighted to share some of these letters with my readers... many of you may have wanted to ask about the very same problems.

ons, but in addition, each salon has a comfortable private office where you can discuss your problems. No one hears your discussion, except the Pat Walker representative. You will find her kind, courteous and above all, an understanding person. She is well trained and has a great deal of experience in helping solve similar problems. But most important, your first visit and each succeeding visit to your favorite Pat Walker Salon will be conducted in complete privacy. Thank you for writing in — please feel free to do so at any time. And... good luck and slim figures to you and your friends!

Another letter I think is most interesting, one I received recently from a Glendale woman. Her question is one we hear so often and we have had so many letters about, that I think it would be most timely to publish at least one. Mrs. WA writes.

Miss Walker, is reducing expensive? I see so many ads saying, "2 for 1,"

"We'll reduce you in two weeks at $1 a treatment" and things like this. I would like to know what it really does cost to reduce.

DEAR MRS. WA: As in anything else you spend your money for, and according to the famous adage, "You get what you pay for." When you make a purchase, whether it's for a new TV or a new figure, go to the place of business which has built a reputation for honesty and integrity. You can buy your TV from any dealer, many who might not care about the kind of service they give, but are only interested in making a sale. Such a dealer stays in business because he constantly attracts NEW customers. Obviously, he is not interested in building a solid reputation, but wants simply to take your money and go on to the next sale. You will be interested to know that when we founded the Pat Walker Salons nearly twenty years ago, there was very little difference in the way some people operated even then, from the way they operate now. Over the years, we at Pat Walker's have not only maintained our business, but have grown and expanded until we are now the only recognized authority in the slenderizing field, with salons worldwide. Since we opened our first salon over nineteen years ago, many others have opened and closed. There have been many imitators.

PERFORMANCE is what counts in any business, and without integrity and performance, they simply have not lasted. So when you read of all those 'hot specials' you see advertised, beware; they may not be a bargain. When you visit a Pat Walker Salon, you are told right then and there what it will cost to bring you down to your perfect figure.

Pat Walker will be glad to help you with your figure problems. If you have a question concerning yourself or a friend, write to Pat Walker at 3445 West First Street, Los Angeles.

Bill's Ranch Market Observes Birthday

Dedicated Neighbors Who Use and Patronize Bill's Ranch Market in Upland Are Greeted by This Scene When They Arrive on Frequent Forays

UPLAND — Bill's Ranch Market, 1383 E. Foothill Blvd., is a unique place says manager Edward Oram.

"I don't know if the owners know how they differ from other markets," he said, "but in the years I've been here in Upland, there are loads of things I've seen that make our store much different from other supermarkets in the area."

Four years ago, Bill's Ranch Market purchased the location from Food Giant which, in turn, had bought the property from McDaniels, the developers of the site.

"Bill's thought the area was about ready for their type of operation," Oram explained. "We could still use more homes in the immediate area to make this the beehive it should be. But even without the population to make it our biggest store, the differences are still apparent," he said.

Last year Bill's purchased top quality produce only to watch it wilt within four hours on the stand. New, refrigerated cases keep the fresh fruits and vegetables crisp throughout the day until the subsequent delivery of daily fresh produce.

"And the price is right," said Oram. "Lower than discount food store produce prices."

Also last year, according to the manager, U.S. Choice graded beef was available but the meat counter sales did not reflect this fact. The price on all beef was lowered at least 10 cents per pound under other markets and current sales indicate the customer appreciates quality and price at Bill's.

Since Bill's came to Upland there has always been a full line of giant-sized No. 10 cans of fruits and vegetables. No other markets stocks the same selection for large groups and the price gives additional savings. These cans are great for the commercial user and if compared, the prices are competitive with wholesale suppliers.

"One of the ways Bill's helps to save," Oram said, "is on the discounts available in Health and Beauty Aids section. Every item is discounted at least 10 per cent."

Oram also indicated Bill's saves the buyer money on Special Buys. "This is when our buyer can purchase thousands of cases of an item then we can pass the savings on to you. These items will be found on the end displays or marked by special tags on the regular counters."

Oram cited a typical example as the "$1.19 knives sets recently purchased in quantity which we are selling now at $1.00 for three knives."

JIM GAGE
... Meat Dept. Mgr.

ROSEANNA MOORE
... Office Manager

Another area where Bill's differs is in the advertised items. "Most are well-known quality items" Oram said. "Like Best Foods, Gold Medal, Banquet, Johnson's and many more; they are always under the advertised prices of other supermarkets."

With this type program, Bill's sometimes runs out of an item, but "the customer will be able to purchase the item at the advertised price as soon as we get it back in," Oram said.

There are many dedicated neighbors who use Bill's. Cheer, the group that monthly sends gift packs and writes letters to servicemen in Vietnam, is headquartered at Bill's. Bill's also helps the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, the Little League and church and school groups. The Booster Club has established a Wishing Well in the market.

"We even support those who are searching for a cause who bring their signs and picket us, for whatever their reason," Oram said.

"The biggest satisfaction of being here, though," he said, "is to be sharing in a job well-done by a fine group of employees who seek to be professional in their endeavor to bring the fine people of Upland, Ontario, Cucamonga and Alta Loma the kind of market they want."

WIN makes work look better than welfare

A fattening file of success stories, aptly titled WIN, is giving new hope to Californians that away has been found to help welfare recipients get off the treadmill that pays more money on welfare than they could earn if employed.

WIN — shorthand for Work Incentive — is the key and is administered by the California Department of Human Resources Development. The work incentive program offers extra money, in addition to the welfare check, during job training, and after employment in some cases, until the paycheck exceeds the previous welfare check.

Here's a typical story: A 42-year-old Sacramento veteran with a wife and eight children had been on welfare for four years when he came to the WIN program.

His WIN counselor suggested adult education classes and vocational training as a groundskeeper. His WIN coach, an important member of every WIN team, kept in touch with him during his training to help in solving any problems.

He had perfect school attendance and excellent performance during training and, after five months, was hired by the Sacramento Parks and Recreation Department.

His move from welfare to wages represents an estimated annual savings of $4,704 in welfare payments by the county.

The WIN program was the key that freed this man and thousands in similar circumstances from being locked into a system that often paid the welfare recipient as much for doing nothing as for working — sometimes more. Its immediate aim is to reverse the rising costs of aid to families with dependent children, helping the able-bodied toward self-sufficiency. The long-range aim is to establish a normal pattern of living for the children of such families, to break the cycle of dependency on welfare checks that often passes from generation to generation.

The program provided this opportunity to Angel L., a 41-year-old laborer with a fifth grade education, who had been trying to support a wife and three children by working on a hops ranch for the past 13 years. He needed welfare support for two of the past five years.

When he came to the WIN program, his counselor and other members of his WIN team gave him tests to determine what kind of job would fit his aptitudes. Angel said he liked to work with gas engines so a course of training was set up in small gas engine repair. During his training, the WIN office kept in touch with him to support his interest and to help solve any problems.

Toward the end of his training the WIN manpower specialist, another member of the WIN team, developed an opening for him as maintenance man at a large convalescent hospital. After seven months in WIN, he became fully self-supporting in this position and no longer needed the $239 per month he had been receiving from welfare.

A work plan is made for every individual enrolled in the program, indicating which services he is to receive and in what sequence, to help him achieve steady employment.

Everyone received AFDC is referred to the local WIN office of the Department of Human Resources Development except school children, mothers needed at home, the disabled or other ineligible.

Some enrollees move directly into jobs after assessment and counseling. Some are placed in other manpower programs more suited to their needs, or in training and work-experience activities. In one way or another, the WIN program provides whatever the enrollee needs in the way of job orientation, basic education, training in a skill, work experience and placement service. Throughout this period, the enrollee continues to get the monthly welfare grant, plus an incentive payment of $30 monthly and any other out-of-pocket expenses connected with the program, such as transportation costs.

WIN can help keep some people from getting the welfare habit. Angelo D., 26 years old and the father of four children, had been on welfare only a month and was anxious to become self-supporting. He had worked as a laborer and truck driver but needed more work experience to qualify in today's competitive labor market.

His WIN team, the counselor and work training specialist, worked with him to be sure his vocational choice and employment plan were practical. He was given "orientation" regarding what would be expected of him in the world of work, then enrolled in a manpower training course for heavy truck drivers.

Eight months later Angelo was driving a three-axle truck for a heavy metals firm and was earning much more than his $282 per month welfare grant.

California's WIN program is based on 1967 amendments to the Federal Social Security Act, with 80 per cent Federal funding and 20 per cent State, primarily for all unemployed fathers receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children (their referral to WIN is mandatory) and also for AFDC-supported mothers who volunteer for the program. The welfare agency provides child care or other family services if needed by the enrollees.

There's no way to measure many of the benefits that will flow from the success of WIN, but three obvious ones are fundamental in the whole concept:

—Every person who previously brought home a welfare check and now brings home a paycheck recovers a sense of dignity, self-worth and confidence that inevitably contributes to a happier family life and a better community spirit.

—The children are given the chance to grow up in a normal, self-supporting family situation.

—Welfare costs will be cut, in cash and administration, not only in regard to the WIN graduates themselves but in future savings that will be made because the cycle of dependency on welfare has been broken.

Between September, 1968, when the WIN program began, and the end of January, 1970, 33,736 welfare recipients have been enrolled in the program.

Jack Benny coming to Orange Show

SAN BERNARDINO — Jack Benny, the noted violinist who was born 39 years ago in Chicago, will appear twice on Sunday, April 5, from the stage of Swing Auditorium as part of the free stage shows to be presented during the 55th National Orange Show April 2-12 in San Bernardino. His performances are at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m.

In 1932, Benny's first words on the air were, "This is Jack Benny. There was a slight pause while everyone says 'Who Cares?'" Today, 40 million people who see him on television care a lot.

Benny developed his own format for his radio show, the combination comedy - variety - continuity show, which proved to be so successful. It was imitated by others in the years which followed.

Benny was the first to good naturedly kid the commercial plugging his sponsor's product. He was also the first comedian to play the straight for other people in the show; who had laughs turned on himself as often as he'd turn them on others.

During World War II, Benny made a number of overseas trips to entertain troops, in addition to sojourns across the country. He first played the European Theater in 1943 and a year later made a swing through the South Pacific. He was back at it again during the Korean War, doing a six-week stint there in 1951.

Jack's latest enthusiasm is performing as violin soloist with the top symphony orchestras in the country, with all proceeds going to charitable causes. He's raised more than $4.5 million in this manner.

Coach McKay

John McKay, coach of USC Trojans, will be the featured guest and speaker at the Athletic Fund-Raising Dinner, April 24 at 7 p.m. in the Gold Room at California State Polytechnic College, Pomona. All proceeds from the dinner, which will be $7.50 a plate, go for athletic scholarships at Cal Poly.

This dinner is sponsored by the Associated Students and is open to the public. Tickets will be on sale after April 13 by mail or in person at the ASI Ticket Office on the campus, 595-1241, ext. 430.

Sheriff tells new bureau established

Sheriff Peter J. Pichess has created a new bureau within the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, entitled, "The Career Development Bureau" which will be included within the structure of the Administrative Division.

Its responsibilities will encompass the existing functions of Recruitment, Health and Welfare, Grant Management, Long Range Planning and a new function, Educational Services.

The Educational Services Unit will attempt to provide large scale educational programs for members of the Department, hopefully by funding the programs through Grant Management section of the Bureau. These programs will provide the education and training needed to maintain the high standards of professional law enforcement provided by the Sheriff's Department.

Return forms

The VA says veterans and dependents who did not return their income questionnaires by Jan. 15 deadline should do so immediately. Assistance in completing questionnaires may be obtained from the nearest VA office.

Casa Colina adds PR man to cabinet

The Board of Directors of Casa Colina Hospital for Rehabilitative Medicine has announced the appointment of George F. Sweeney, a resident of Pomona, to the hospital's Cabinet, with special responsibilities in public relations.

Sweeney is director of the Pomona College News Bureau, a public relations position he has held since 1961. He attended the University of Minnesota, leaving to accept a position with the Duluth Herald and News-Tribune, an association which continued for fifteen years.

In California, he has served in an editorial capacity with the Los Angeles Times, the San Bernardino Sun-Telegram and the Pomona Progress Bulletin. While serving the Progress Bulletin as Sunday editor, he established that newspaper's first Sunday editions.

Sweeney has served in a public relations capacity for numerous state and regional fund drives, including the Red Cross, the American Cancer Society and the Community Fund. During World War II he was an editor and public relations specialist for the U. S. Army Air Force.

He is a member of the American College Public Relations Association, the California Newspaper Publishers Association, the Los Angeles Press Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion and the Claremont University Club.

Lead in air increasing

Lead in the air we breathe is increasing. Around San Diego the rate of increase is about 5 per cent per year, with concentrations at times as high as 80 per cent of the limit proposed by health agencies, according to a report to the American Chemical Society.

Experiments have pinpointed automotive exhausts as the source of the excess lead, says Dr. T. J. Chow, geochemist at Scripps Institution of Oceanography, La Jolla, California, who gave the report.

The hundreds of millions of pounds of lead used in antiknock chemicals in this country each year pollutes the soil and vegetation and travels long distances through the air to be washed out by rain or snow and discharged, directly or through rivers, into the oceans, Dr. Chow relates. Because of the poisonous nature of lead, increasing lead pollutants in our environment constitute a health hazard that cannot be ignored, and previous research has shown that exposure of human beings to long-term increases in atmospheric lead will result in higher levels of lead in the blood, Dr. Chow asserts.

For three years Dr. Chow's group has sampled continuously the air around the City of San Diego. The lead particles in the air are collected by filtering devices at five sampling stations representing various environments — metropolitan downtown, the seashore, and remote high mountains. The scientists find that concentrations of atmospheric lead vary with the season, weather conditions, and geographical location.

The levels of lead in the air increase drastically from mid-ocean to the high mountains, to the seashore, to center-city environments, and some suspended particles in the San Diego urban air contain as high as 6.8 per cent lead, Dr. Chow reports.

Tax tales

The loss of money or property might be a tax deduction, depending upon the facts. What about the loss of weight?

A pilot who had to lose 38 pounds claimed a $500 deduction for new clothing, necessarily needed to cover his slimmer body. The Tax Court held against the flying taxpayer. It is, the court said, well settled that only clothing required for employment and unsuitable for daily wear is deductible.

Millionth passenger for airline

ONTARIO — Pacific Southwest Airlines boarded its 1,000,000th passenger of 1970 at Ontario Airport Friday, March 20, and — true to PSA's image — the passenger was a pretty one.

Susan Plummer, a 19-year-old freshman at the University of Redlands, had just checked in for a flight to San Francisco when PSA officials informed her that she was the airline's milestone passenger for 1970. Susan was on her way home to Milbrae, near San Francisco, for her Easter vacation, at the time.

PSA's Ontario district sales manager Gale Hoxworth presented her with two round-trip air passes on PSA, in addition to a three-foot-tall Snoopy doll sporting a PSA stewardess cap and a monogrammed doghouse commemorating the occasion. To properly salute the young lovely, Susan's fellow passengers aboard the flight to San Francisco and Sacramento were served free champagne in her honor.

Sweet Trap Balinese children armed with twigs tipped with a stick, sweet sap help catch dragonflies to be served with rice as part of the family diet.

Group protects flag salute

A group calling itself "the quiet Americans" has taken a step in its fight for the right to salute the flag.

In a recent trip to Sacramento, the group presented more than 12,000 signatures on petitions -- collected mostly from the desert areas stretching from Brawley to Needles to Lt. Governor Ed Reinecke urging the Legislature to adopt a joint resolution which advises the President and the U. S. Congress that a constitutional amendment is needed to insure their rights to patriotic exercises -- specifically saluting the flag.

Representatives of the "silent majority" making the presentation included Mrs. Maxine Dotson Witte and Mrs. Anna Richardson of Apple Valley and Mr. and Mrs. Ray White of Victorville. They began their efforts after reading of recent court cases where children not only refused to recite the flag salute, but interrupted others who were saluting. Court cases are now pending that are similar to those that led to banning of prayer in public schools.

The Legislators, in accepting the petitions stated that they were "a constructive move toward protecting the younger generation's right to voluntarily salute the flag in the public schools."

Senator William E. Coombs (R-Rialto), Assemblymen Jerry Lewis (R-Highland) and Victor Veysey (R-Brawley) are sponsoring the resolution. Additional information can be obtained by writing to the "Quiet Americans," Post Office Box 1081, Apple Valley, California 92307.

Cutbacks hurt cancer fight

The American public is being short-changed on cancer research, claims Allan K. Jonas of Los Angeles, California state president of the American Cancer Society.

"The nation's capability for solving the cancer problem is much greater than its present performance would indicate," he declared. "This is because only a portion of its available resources are being used at the present time."

Jonas said that persistent cutbacks in federal government spending for the National Cancer Institute are having far-reaching repercussions. Non-government organizations such as the American Cancer Society are unable to take up all the slack.

"As a member of the Society's national research committee I recently participated in a quarterly meeting at which we were forced to reject nearly half of the worthwhile research grant requests we had received," Jonas reported. "We sat there with only $11,000,000 to spend -- but with $20,000,000 in applications we wanted to approve."

Because of "misplaced economy" said Jonas, the nation's cancer research effort is running at only about half speed. It is bogged down primarily because of reduction in federal support for the National Cancer Institute.

"This is in the nature of a crisis," he declared. During the past year, he said, the NCI has limped along on a curtailed budget of approximately $170,000,000. "Because of uncertainties over the budget, it has been operating on a shaky hand-to-mouth basis," he commented.

The health, Education and Welfare Department budget for fiscal 1970-71 now includes an appropriation of $190,000,000 for the NCI, but this, according to Jonas, "is not as reassuring as at first glance it might seem."

He predicted that during the course of the fiscal year the Bureau of the Budget will hold back at least ten per cent of the $190,000,000, thus reducing effective spending to approximately the same level as in 1969-70.

"Since inflation will reduce purchasing power by another ten percent, it's obvious that government supported cancer research not only isn't holding its own, but is headed sharply down," he said.

Jonas commented that one of the saddest side effects of cutbacks in the federal program is the discouragement of specially trained young cancer researchers who have begun to wonder about the wisdom of the career choices they have made. "Pinching pennies now is going to cost lives later," he added. "It's going to result in an extension of cancer-caused misery, suffering and death and will delay the final conquest of this disease."

"Future historians may observe in speechless dismay a nation such as ours, which, on the threshold of the 1970's and in its scientific golden age, concentrated so single-mindedly on military and space achievements that it fumbled the opportunity to save the lives of its people from a killer disease."

"To me it doesn't make sense to be penurious about fighting a killer disease while devoting billions of dollars to non-productive activity in other fields."

Jonas reported that the American Cancer Society budgeted approximately 35 percent of its total funds to cancer research in the fiscal year ended last August 31. This was equal to more than $21,000,000.

According to Jonas, research grants made by the Society are closely coordinated with those of the federal government to avoid duplication and overlapping. Cutbacks in federal spending have resulted in increased requests for support from ACS.

"We are receiving just about twice as many applications for research support as we did in previous years," he said. During the past ten days, he added, Jonas has been holding emergency conferences with presidents of the Society's 35 California branches.

Auto Club Motorlog zeros in on National Orange Show

California has two golden treasures - gold and citrus! The dramatic story of the "wondrous golden fruit" will be presented nowhere else so well as the 55th National Orange Show in San Bernardino April 2 through 12.

The Automobile Club of Southern California reports that in addition to the lavish displays the National Orange Show is also a fun and activity fair. The opening event will take place on Thursday evening at 7:30 in the Swing Auditorium with a gala California Citrus Queen Pageant. This has become one of the state's finest beauty contests with some fifty of the Southland's fairest competing for a queenly crown.

"Citrus International" is the theme for this year's Orange Show and is repeated everywhere on the fairgrounds but especially in the Feature Exhibits Building where some 30 Southland communities compete for cash premiums with their dazzling exhibits featuring all varieties of citrus fruits.

For many years the Orange Show has been proud of the many hours of free, top-flight stage entertainment it has provided. These free shows are presented weeknights at 7:30 p.m. and twice on Saturdays and Sundays at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. in the Swing Auditorium.

Other free attractions on the fairgrounds include the Petting Zoo (where tots may mingle with tame animals of all kinds); Bob Baker's Marionettes; a huge Hobby Show; musical concerts; an International Exhibit of Photography and military displays.

The Flower and Garden Show, one of the Southland's top shows of its kind, has "Pacific Panorama" as its theme, which ties in with the overall show slogan.

The Flower Show will honor New Zealand this year with a central display of flowers and birds native to that country. The National Orange Show and the Bay of Plenty Orange Festival in Tauranga, New Zealand, cooperate in a "queen's exchange" program each year.

Fairs won't be quite complete without the exciting rodeos. The Sheriff's Championship Rodeo will be held on the final weekend with two afternoon performances in the Orange Show Stadium April 11 and 12. Sunday's rodeo will be preceded by a giant parade from downtown San Bernardino to the Orange Show fairgrounds.

Members of 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers will display livestock and other animals competing for several thousand dollars in prize money.

A number of fresh and new attractions have been added to this year's Orange Show. Two of the new "family fun" features will be an Antique Car Show and the first annual Orange Peeling and Eating Contest. The antique car event will be held on April 7. The orange eating competitions, as part of Kids Day, will be held on April 3 and 10.

The Orange Show grounds open daily at 10:00 a.m. Admission: adults $1.00; youngsters under 12, 25 cents.

A WINNER - California Citrus Queen Marchant Archuleta has many royal duties at the National Orange Show in San Bernardino, but her favorite is judging the Orange and Lemon Pie and Cake Baking Contest. Hundreds of succulent entries are tested each year by top judges, as they will be again during the April 2-12 run of the citrus exposition.

Kaiser anti-smog project

FONTANA - Construction of a $2.6 million air pollution control device to control sintering plant stack emissions at the Kaiser Steel Corporation plant at Fontana has been announced by Jack J. Carlson, president.

Approval of the expenditure was voted by the company's Board of Directors at their annual meeting held at the corporation home offices in Oakland, California. In making the announcement, Carlson said the control device, a huge "baghouse" unit, would most effectively filter stack emissions. "This selection was made," he said, "after 12 years of exhaustive research and actual test model trials of 11 different types of control devices."

State lists work high for 1 month

The highest February employment on record was reached last month in California despite cutbacks in aerospace and the automobile industries, announced the Department of Industrial Relations and Human Resources Development of the State Human Relations Agency.

The new February record of 7,930,000 total civilian employees topped February, 1969, by 177,000—a 2.3 percent increase.

The weakest spot remained the manufacturing category where, for the fifth month in a row, employment lagged below the prior-year level. With 1,633,000 workers this February, manufacturing fell short of the February, 1969, figure by 34,000.

In addition to a loss of more than 50,000 aerospace manufacturing jobs (aircraft, ordnance, electrical equipment, and instruments) in the past twelve months, motor vehicles employment was well below the year-ago level because of less demand for autos.

Between January and February, total employment contracted by 11,000. Normally, little change in the total takes place at this time of year. Trade and manufacturing led the decline, a share of which was offset by gains in services and government.

Dividends

Veterans and servicemen with U. S. Government Life and National Service Life Insurance policies will receive $264 million in dividends in 1970, according to the VA.
